Auburn University College of Architecture, Design and Construction
Professor and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs

The College of Architecture, Design and Construction at Auburn University is seeking applications and nominations from accomplished, innovative academic leaders for the position of Professor and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Applicants must have a teaching and scholarly record meriting tenure at the rank of Associate or Full Professor.

The College of Architecture, Design and Construction at Auburn University, established in 1907, is comprised of the School of Architecture, Planning and Landscape Architecture, the McWhorter School of Building Science and the School of Industrial and Graphic Design. These academic units offer undergraduate and graduate degree programs that are consistently recognized institutionally and nationally for academic excellence and on-going innovations in the fields of design, construction and related education.

Auburn University, a land-grant institution, was chartered in 1856. Auburn has consistently been ranked by US News and World Report as one of the top 50 public universities in the United States. The university has 1,192 full-time faculty and enrolls 27,280 regional, national, and international students. The town of Auburn is a growing and affordable community with outstanding public schools. http://www.auburn.edu/

Responsibilities:
The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs is responsible for all matters broadly related to undergraduate academic programs. Reporting to the Dean of the College of Architecture, Design and Construction, the Associate Dean provides leadership and direction to the College's instructional mission, is responsible for program assessment, oversees undergraduate study abroad programs, student recruitment, advising and placement, and other assignments as determined by the Dean.

This is a 12-month, tenured position. Rank and salary are commensurate with experience.

Required qualifications
- Terminal degree in one of the current disciplines in the College, or a related discipline.
- Academic and professional record that merits appointment at rank of Associate or Full Professor with tenure
- Demonstrated effective problem solving skills
- Demonstrated performance in making sound, independent judgments
- Positive record of advising and mentoring students
- Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively and collegially with faculty, staff, students, and administrators
- Record of outstanding written, interpersonal and digital communication skills

Desired qualifications
- Recognized accomplishments in teaching, scholarship, research and professional practice
- Experience with academic administration in a University setting
- Experience with international partnerships and initiatives
- Experience at obtaining external funding
- Experience with assessment and specialized accreditation protocols

Application Process:
Review application materials and apply online at the following URL: http://aufacultypositions.peopleadmin.com/postings/1353
For additional information contact the chair of the search committee Dr. Richard Burt via email at rab0011@auburn.edu

Review of applications begins 25 January 2016 and will continue until a candidate is appointed. Start date is tentatively July 2016. Candidates selected must be able to meet eligibility requirements in the U.S. at the time appointment is scheduled to begin and continue to work legally for the proposed term of employment.

Auburn University is an EEO/VET/Disability Employer.